A FINE FINISH

It seems to be a habit with Montreal teams in various sports to finish their season with a drive and a burst of power that tends to make Mr. Average Fan forget some of his disappointment at their previous sour showing. First it was the Royals baseball club, almost pounding a way into the International League playoffs. Mr. Fan went home ready for a long winter in the Hot Stove League, feeling that the loss by sale of injury, of some of the Royals' brightest stars had been compensated for and convinced, as usual, that "Next year the boys will be right in there."

And now last week-end those hardy souls who risked death by drowning or exposure up at Molson Stadium, saw another Montreal team vindicate itself. True, it wasn't the last game of the season for the Montreal Football club but we have an idea that maybe last week's brisk performance will be repeated again this Saturday and that the Up-and-Down Argos from Toronto may get a healthy shoving around this Saturday. We'll be keeping all our fingers crossed, however. (Did someone from Toronto say something about eyes being crossed too?)

It really was a pleasure, last Saturday, to see the vaunted Rough-Rider "tank corps" being pushed all over the lot by an aggressive Montreal line. With one good "pay-off man" in the backfield the Nameless outfit might very well have pulled the upset of the season by taking the Ottawa boys for a ride.

CAN COPS SWIM?

When a bunch of fans, soaked with rain and apparently with more powerful beverages, started a scrambling mix-up in the stands, two policemen in the dry haven of the scoreboard were very interested spectators of the battle. They apparently did not hear the appeals that were made over the P.A. system for a couple of cops to come and forcibly negotiate an armistice between the brawlers; or else they couldn't swim.

PENNIES FOR PLUMBERS

The job of looking after the Engineering building and seeing that its floors are swept and its windows cleaned and keeping it in one piece against the onslaughts of high spirited engineers, must be a tough one. We've often wondered how Fred Barton keeps his unfailing good humor in such a situation but now, it seems we've found the secret. Apparently when the going gets tough, he relaxes by some means such as he used last week. A group of plumbers in the main hallway of the building were suddenly showered with many coppers, gathered, we suspect, because of the insistence of our government that the purchase of a "coke" must be accompanied with much searching for that odd copper.

Engineers are human, a certain co-ed to the contrary, and there followed a wild scramble for the above-mentioned rain of coppers. More handfuls of money followed and the whole hallway was soon a seething mass of humanity eagerly reaching for the cash. Many were the trodden fingers and cries of pain and great was the amusement of those not involved in the struggle. When it was all over, we noticed an engineer proudly displaying 21 cents that he'd gathered; it would probably take about two

BOVEY CONTEST TO TAKE PLACE IN UNION TODAY

Frosh Will Argue Question of American Participation in War

FEW FRESHIES DEBATE

All Newcomers May Speak Whether or Not Previously Entered

Freshmen and Freshettes will vie for the Bovey Shield this evening starting at 4:00 p.m. in the Music Room of the Union. The subject under discussion is to be: "Resolved that the United States of America can best help Democracy by taking up arms against the Axis." This year for the first time an individual prize is to be given the winner and a big turnout is expected by the Debating Union committee, which has been arranging the contest, though fewer Freshettes have been signing up for the competition than was hoped. While all contestants must turn out by 5:00 p.m. only certain ones are required to appear at 4:00 o'clock. The order in which the competitors will speak is to be determined by the drawing of lots. The side of the resolution which each speaker will support will be that of his own choice. According to the rules governing the debates each speaker will be held strictly to a five minute time limit. Judges for the evening will be Professor John P. Humphrey of the Faculty of Law, Honorary President of the Debating Union; Mr. A. Robert George, Lecturer in Oral English; and Rev. Thomas Lamont, B.A., recent graduate and prominent debater during his years at McGill. The winner and runner-up of the contest are to have the traditional privilege of acting as Prime Minister and Leader of the Opposition at the session's first Mock Parliament to take place in a week's time. The winner will choose the party he wishes to lead and the runner-up will champion the cause of the opposite side of the house.

Last Minute Entrants Welcome. The Debating Union emphasizes that previous debating experience is neither necessary nor expected on the part of entrants and is particularly anxious that those Freshmen and Freshettes who have so far hung back, yet are interested in the contest, should not hesitate to come and take part. Freshettes are (Continued on Page Four)

MAC CIRCLE GATHERS AFTER SUN. PARADE

The second general Macabean Circle Meeting will be held this Sunday afternoon at the Union Grill immediately after the church parade of the McGill Reserve Training Battalion. Rabbi S. Geshon Levi will speak, the title of his address is "As A Driven Leaf," and is based on the book of the same name.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 4:30 p.m. but proceedings will await the return of the men from the church parade. "To them the hot cup of tea to be served should indeed prove welcome," stated the club president, who added that in the business part of the session a series of novel meetings would be discussed.

Dr. Thomas Has Broad Experience in Economics

New Professor Is Lecturer, Author and Research Worker—Expresses Keen Interest in Student Activities

By A. T.

Stating that he was not entirely a stranger to Canadian life and customs, as he had travelled through the Dominion in 1939, Dr. Brinley Thomas, Visiting Professor of Economics at McGill, remarked that he hoped to become well acquainted with student life at the University, and expressed a keen interest in undergraduate activities.

In addition to his work in banking and finance, Dr. Thomas has always had a keen interest in the problem of population migration, and it was research in this field which brought him to Canada in 1939. From the survey that he has so far made Dr. Thomas expressed the opinion that Canada's natural resources can certainly support a greater population, and he looks for considerable expansion in this respect after the war is over. However, he explained, it was not sufficient only to have more people, but there must be additional capital to develop and utilize these resources, and the revival of the movement of international finance is an important factor in this respect.

Dr. Thomas was born in Wales 34 years ago, and obtained his early education at the University College of Wales, from which he took his M.A. degree. Later he took post-graduate work at the London School of Economics, and there earned his Ph.D. in 1931. In the same year he was appointed assistant lecturer at the latter college, and in 1934 was elevated to the post of lecturer.

During his stay at the School he worked with Prof. Robbins and Prof. Bowley, both prominent British economists.

In 1933 Dr. Thomas spent almost a year in Berlin studying the financial conditions in Germany, and he was there during the first few months of the Nazi seizure of power. Following his return to England he was awarded a Travelling Fellowship, and went to Sweden to study the financial recovery program of that country. Again in 1938 Dr. Thomas was further honoured when he was awarded the Leverhulme Research Fellowship, which permitted him a year's leave from his post at the London School of Economics to be devoted to writing a book, "Migration of Population in the British Commonwealth," but the present war forced him to postpone his work. It was while he was in the Dominion gathering material for his book that war was declared, and he was sent to the British Embassy at Washington, and was appointed to the post of Economic Advisor to the British Library of Information in New York City.

In addition to his lecturing and research work Dr. Thomas has published considerable in regard to financial affairs. Among his more important works are a contribution to the book "Unbalanced Budgets," for which he wrote Part II, dealing with Germany, and in 1936 he published "Monetary Policy and Crises," which was a study of Swedish financial experience.

Psychological Society To Elect Executive

The Psychological Society will meet today at 3 p.m. in Room 74 of the Arts Building. The purpose of this first meeting is to select an executive and discuss plans for the coming year.

It is hoped, by the committee, that all those interested will turn out so that plans for meetings of a common interest may be arranged. The executive also wishes to have it stressed that although the name of the Society has an awesome sound, it is not a technical discussion group. Some of last year's meetings included talks on "Vocational Guidance," "Propaganda," and "The Roharschack Test." All students who are taking Psychology or Sociology are especially invited to attend, but everyone is welcome.

The theory as explained is founded on definite physiological discoveries recently adopted. At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Rhys said that man today is more than ever eager to create, and that the new ethics are bound to be ethics of freedom, compassion, and creativeness. After the talk an open discussion took place.

MODERN DANCE CLUB BEGINS NEW SEASON

The first meeting of the Modern Dance Club was held yesterday afternoon in the R.V.C. gym. After limbering up, the dances created last year were revised.

While resting the members listened to their pianist play music of every kind. The Club is divided into two groups, each of which chose a selection on which to base their new dances. There is much scope for creative work in this group so anyone who is interested and has not yet joined is still very welcome, stated Ruth Mallory, the president of the group.

The Club hopes to subscribe to the "Dance Observer" so that it may have an idea of what goes on in the Modern Dance World outside McGill. Later in the year the members are planning to give a short recital.

DIRECTORY COMES OUT THIS MONTH

Complete List of Students Now Being Prepared

The Students' Directory will make its appearance this year as usual. The Directory contains the names of all students at the University, whether graduate, undergraduate, limited or partial students, as well as their faculty, year, telephone number, city and home address. In addition, the men's and women's fraternities, societies and institutions connected with McGill, and the class officers of all years are listed.

After the University has compiled its calendar the plates, with the names and addresses of the students, are given to the Students' Council to use for the Directory. Under their auspices the Directory is then published and sold at a charge of 10 cents to cover the cost of printing and binding.

The students names up to the letter "T" have been sent down to the printer. This is well on schedule, so the Directory is expected to go on sale at the end of this month, as usual.

PRODUCER ADVISES

Students' Executive Council Calls Off Show

EXPERIENCE LACKING

Majority of Last Year's Officers Now on Active Service

Following consideration by the Students' Executive Council and upon the recommendation of the Producer of the Red and White Revue, McGill's hitherto annual musical show has been called off this year.

Since most of the executive are now on active service, Bill Doherty, the producer, along with the rest of the executive had been considering going ahead with the preparations and at the same time training in a new executive to take over at such time as they themselves are called for overseas duty. It was reported however, that this was found impractical because of the time and experience necessary to make a success of it and the difficulty in chorus and skit rehearsals caused by military training of men and at R.V.C. The risk of considerable financial loss was too great, it was stated.

The following is the letter recommending cancellation sent to Gordon Young, president of the Students' Society:

Recommends Cancellation.

The President, Students' Council, McGill University, "Dear Mr. Young: "At a meeting of the Red & White Revue Executive held last Wednesday, we came to the decision that it would be impossible to produce the Revue this year.

"After carefully going into the different phases of the production, we found that no one had sufficient experience either with the stage or with the business end to warrant our going on with it. It also was apparent that time for rehearsals, both for the chorus and skits, would be difficult to find on account of the military activities of both the women and men students. "I personally have gone into the idea of getting someone, who was not previously in the Revue, to produce the show. But I am convinced that it would be impossible.

"It is with very much regret that I have come to this decision, but, as you know, practically all of the Executive are on Active Service.

"I wish to express my thanks to the Students' Council for giving me an opportunity to go on with the Revue.

"Yours sincerely,

(Signed) WILLIAM DOHERTY."

cussion at the meeting is to be "Christianity and War."

Professor R. D. MacLennan, M.A., Chairman of the Humanities Group and of the Department of Philosophy, who has recently returned from war-torn Europe, will be the special speaker.

After the subject has been introduced Professor R. D. MacLennan will lead a discussion. "This topic should be of special interest to students," said H. Lloyd Henderson, Chairman of the Society, in an interview tonight, and a large attendance is expected.

The president of the Society, Ralph Hertz, stated that this meeting should not be missed by any pre-med students, since this branch of Research is of major importance at the present time. There will be a short business meeting after the address.

It has been announced that Monday will be the last day for ordering the pre-med society pins.

ALBERTA EDUCATOR TALKS AT MCGILL

Emphasizes Democratic Quality of Modern Educational Practice

"Practice in Democratic living" is the keynote of modern education, said Dr. G. F. McNally, deputy minister of education in the Province of Alberta, in a talk to the education classes at McGill yesterday afternoon. Dr. McNally pointed out that the modern classroom provides three elements necessary for democratic living—pooling of the best work of all its citizens, practice in living by co-operation and incidentally, the gaining of skills.

"Strange things can happen when you get west of Winnipeg," said Dr. McNally. "The west is only fifty or sixty years old, and it is easier to make things different when they haven't been going on for a long time." In outlining the changes effected in the modern curriculum, Dr. McNally pictured pupils busy doing interesting group jobs, selected by themselves, with everybody putting into the pool his particular skill, knowledge or equipment. Defining Education as something "bringing about" desirable changes in people."

Dr. McNally was introduced by Dr. A. B. Curie, Associate Professor of Education, and was thanked by John Dando, and Winnifred Fairhead. Following the talk tea was served.

side meeting will be held at the home of Nelson Holland, 134 Ballantyne Avenue, Montreal West. Bill Weaver, Chem '41, will speak on the subject "The Will Of God."

The meeting is set for 8.15 p.m. Informal discussion will follow the address, after which refreshments will be served.

At the first meeting of the newly formed Islanders' Club which was held in Douglas Hall, the plans for the year were drawn up and the officers were elected. The club membership is limited to Prince Edward Island Students at McGill University and was organized for the purpose of encouraging P.E.I. students to complete their higher education at McGill and to promote fellowship among students already at the University. The officers elected for the current year are as follows:

Honorary President, Hon. Dr. Cyrus Macmillan; Honorary Vice-President, Dr. G. R. Brown; President, H. Lloyd Henderson; Vice President, Frank A. Macmillan; Secretary, Dorothy Bentley; Treasurer, Tom D. DeBlois.

Membership in the Club is restricted to Students of McGill University hailing from Prince Edward Island, though honorary membership is provided for Professors and others who are interested in the Club.

The Club plans, among other activities, an "Island Banquet" for the December meeting. The executive expects to have prominent Islanders address the Club and hopes to hear in the near future L. M. Montgomery, prominent author; J. A. MacLeod, President of the Bank of Nova Scotia; Dr. A. H. Gordon and others.

At the meeting held last night the executive presented the Constitution and By-Laws which were approved by the Club. These along with the Budget are to be submitted to the Students' Executive Council for its approval.

W. W. Tidmarsh, Med. 1, has designed a club pin which portrays the three mysterious martlets hovering over the trees of the Cast of Arms of Prince Edward Island.

Revue Cancelled

It is with sincere regret that we announce the cancellation of McGill's big show, the Red and White Revue. The Revue was probably an example of what Hollywood producers prefer to interpret as the sole activity of university students. As much as we deplore this exaggeration we must admit that for some students, work in the Revue did form a major item on the agenda of their college life. Like most organizations, it never was a dire necessity, but think how greatly our campus will miss Montreal's only annual musical show.

The Revue in former years was entirely the original work of McGill students. It offered experience in almost every branch of the theatre and it invariably attracted an excellent organization. This year the Revue was hard hit by the war as practically all of the executive are on Active Service.

Although the majority of the executive had not returned to college, the Producer and those members of the executive who were still available, attempted to build this year's show on the existing organization. After carefully going into the different phases of the production they decided that no one had sufficient experience, either with the stage or with the business end to warrant the production going on. In addition they also felt that it would be difficult to find time for rehearsals with the military activities of the students occupying so much time.

Following these recommendations on the part of the executive of the Revue, the Students' Executive Council at its last meeting passed a resolution cancelling the Revue for the current year.

The Revue is one of the first casualties of the war among student activities at McGill. Undoubtedly many more will be necessary before the battle has been won.

Sadie Hawkins Week

For one week in the year McGill co-eds do the dating and paying—and like it. Sadie Hawkins, that popular ugly duckling from Skunk Hollow, has paid us two annual visits and will arrive at McGill again this year after the mid-terms climaxing with the Spinners' Spree at R.V.C.

Sadie Hawkins week was first held at the University of Tennessee in the autumn of 1938, and the idea became so popular that it was quickly taken up by high schools and colleges in Canada as well as in the United States. Although condemned as undignified and cancelled by the Board of Governors of the University of Alberta last year, the co-eds chose a week and dated their men anyway.

The idea was based on an amusing incident in the comic strip "Li'l Abner," when Sadie Hawkins' pa lined up all the village swains to run a race against Sadie; the penalty for capture which she exacted was marriage. Not quite as drastic at McGill, the event provides a week during which the boy is wooed by the questing female.

From the masculine as well as the feminine point of view this has proved to be an excellent institution and we are pleased that the Women's Union has supported the event once again.

MUSIC NOTES

Another Triumph for Defauw

Desire Defauw is a rare artist! Small, dapper, his hair silvery, a manner that suggests Patrician dignity and grace, he is without a doubt one of the great conductors of our generation. His direction is effective without being imperious. His interpretations are as sensitive and as understanding as you feel this man must be. His unquestioned success in the first pair of concerts he has conducted here are due directly to the enthusiastic co-operation of his men—co-operation, based on a respect and reverence for their "cher maître."

The second of Defauw's appearances with Les Concerts Symphoniques on Tuesday night, opened with the Fourth Symphony of Robert Schumann. It is a work of tender romanticism; tuneful, elegantly phrased, buoyant. The symphony is played without pause between the movements with a view to creating unity of mood. That this impression of wholeness was not completely convincing on Tuesday, is in no way due to Defauw's reading. Perhaps audiences in hearing this work are as optimistically expectant as was Schumann himself.

But the work, a great symphony judged by conventional standards, falls short if we approach it expecting revolutionary innovations—for Schumann is not the vigorous thinker that Beethoven was. We submit, and risk being labelled as a heretic, that the symphony would be far more satisfying if played with the customary breaks between movements.

The interpretation was exquisitely conceived. Mr. Defauw's knack of setting forth a theme with resiliency being highly appropriate to the spirit of the symphony.

Fire Bird Premiere

The feature of the program consisted in what we are told, was the first performance by a local orchestra of Stravinsky's "Fire Bird Suite." From the prolonged applause that greeted the inspired playing, it was evident that a large part of the audience was familiar with the work, presumably through radio and record versions.

The "Fire Bird" was Stravinsky's first success. It precedes "Le Sacre du Printemps," which is far more difficult to listen to, and, of course, "Petrouchka." Based on a familiar Russian legend, the Suite is in six descriptive sections—various in mood, from the almost elegiac Berceuse to the frenzy of Kachche's Dance. The orchestration is masterly but the score is so intricate and exacting that only the greatest orchestras can safely attempt it.

Maestro Defauw's intrepidity in attempting the Suite is to be congratulated. The performance was highly gratifying in every way, running the gamut from whispering harmonies in the upper strings to tremendous volumes of sound from the full orchestra sculptured by a master hand. Le Societe des Concerts Symphoniques made an important addition to its repertoire in the Fire Bird.

Under the heading of novelties Defauw offered Cesar Franck's "Chasseur Maudit," a symphonic poem inspired by Burger's ballad "Der Wilde Jaeger" and "On the Steppes of Central Asia" by Alexander Borodine. Both works are little known here and highly interesting. The Borodine is atmospheric, suggesting the desolation of the vast Russian steppes and contains some beautiful oriental melodies, scored for woodwinds. "Le Chasseur Maudit" is much more of a showpiece, demanding herculean efforts from the brass and perfect coordination throughout. These Mr. Defauw achieved with facility.

THEATRE

His Majesty's Theatre — Pins and Needles — The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union Players presented by Labour Stage Inc.

This is the new version of the labour show which was a hit in New York two years ago. In "Pins and Needles" labour showed that it could laugh at itself while satirizing capitalism; it showed that social significance did not necessarily have to be gloomy study or bitter fanaticism. In the new version the aim is the same, but something of the original verve and wit is lacking.

Individual sketches were very amusing. "Paradise Misled"—all of Odets in ten minutes—was a gay spoofing of the type of significant drama in which no one is normal and capitalism is the villain of the piece. "Mene, Mene, Tekel," the biblical song by Harold Rome was strongly rhythmic and expertly staged. "The Red Mikado," which laughed at everything from the Daughters of the American Revolution to Labour itself, was probably the best sketch, though "The Harmony Boys," a political satire on Fritz Kuhn, Father Coughlin and Senator Bob Reynolds ran it a close second. Last year's hit, "Sunday in the Park," was repeated, for no discernible reason, as it is sentimental and inept.

Naturally there are no stars in a production of this type, but some of the players stand out, notably Bernie Gould, who has a real talent for broad comedy, and Dorothy Harrison, the negro swingstress who gave such a vivid rendering of "Mene, Mene, Tekel."

On the whole, however, the new version of "Pins and Needles" has lost the fresh, audacious spirit of the original edition. Though the actual technique of production is much more professional and finished, much of the satire is adolescent in quality and weak in effect. One wonders whether the true-blue Labour spirit has been corrupted by contact with grease-paint and box-office receipts.

More About Hellaopoppin'

It pops—continuously, without pause, without giving the audience more than a couple of chances to recover its breath and restock its power of laughter—this madhouse revue, "Hellaopoppin'," which is booked at His Majesty's Theatre for one week beginning Monday, November 11.

Olsen and Johnson selected Billy House and Eddie Garr as the men behind the guns in this insane accumulation of vaudeville acts, broadbrimmed wit, outlandish burlesque and crazy doings. Nothing goes in a straight-line, but it gets there.

Billy House and Eddie Garr are supported by such headliners as: Ben Dove, comedy drunk acrobat, and the Readinger Twins, dancing youngsters, both were featured last season in the musical revue, "The Streets of Paris," in New York, Grace and Mikko, Ann Pennington, The 3 Oxfords, Paul Gordon, comedy cyclist, Paul Jerome, recently of Ringling Brothers circus, and many others.

Oh, and DO let's have the Ritz Brothers for Redpath Librarians!

For French—you've guessed it—Charlie Boyer.

The Gorgeous Gallic will be ample inspiration for every co-ed to look coy, eh?

Oh, THINK of it, girls! Charles Boyer within arms' reach!

No girl is too dumb to learn what HE could teach!

Though probably by April our French would comprise little more

Than "Parlez-moi d'amour" and "Cheri, je t'adore."

Edward Arnold can whip Commerce into shape—he looks so big-businessmannish.

And how about Lupe Velez for Spanish?

As it is we have the best Medical School anywhere.

But to give it a colossal-gigantic air,

I mean to make it super-stupendous.

Maybe Hollywood would lend us

Young Doctor—"Shoot the saw to me, Paw"—

Kildare.

And we'll have Garbo for Philosophy; she and it are such a mystery.

And Errol Flynn will be nice for History.

Won't he be beautiful, leaping up on his desk, with his hair in his eyes, smiling through his wounds, brandishing his trusty sword?

We may flunk in History. We may write,

"The Spanish Mane

Was the beard of the King of Spain."

But we'll never, NEVER be bored.

If we have to repeat the course, we'll only shout "Hurrah!"

And how about Vivian to Leigh down the Law?

Is it a good idea or is it a good idea? Now, suppress those hasty conjectures;

Wouldn't it be a step in the right direction if we stopped cancelling lectures for the Pit and began cancelling the Pit for lectures?

Wouldn't it be a decided improvement if classes had Standing Room Only,

Instead of sometimes looking a trifle forlorn and on Saturdays positively lonely?

Wouldn't it be stimulating to hear everyone hissing "Ask ME, Professor!" instead of trying to look small and inconspicuous

if not totally eclipsed?

And to have the Campus filled with eager bright-eyed little scholars studying and studying and studying so that some day

they may gain the approval of Teacher

(Boy, ohboy, ohboy!) by being Scholarships?

And to have everyone fuming around all through the summer holidays saying "I don't like summer holidays, I wish it were Fall?"

And for my own little personal share, I'll take

Laurence Olivier giving me private lessons in—oh, Laurence, in ANYTHING at ALL!

ON THE AIR

Cornell Succumbs.

When Katherine Cornell comes to the microphone, that's news.

The American Red Cross' annual roll call will be launched this Sunday with an all-star program, 2.30-3.30. The major American networks are collaborating, so that the program will be heard over NBC and the Columbia and Mutual Broadcasting Systems.

Katherine Cornell, considered by many the world's greatest living actress, will highlight the program with her radio debut. She has avoided radio for too long a time, but perhaps her succumbing is a sign that radio-drama has finally grown up.

Also on the program will be music by a specially-assembled symphony orchestra, conducted by Leopold Stokowski. And other outstanding personalities to appear will be Clifton Fadiman, of "Information Please" fame; news analyst Raymond Gram Swing; and announcer Bob Trout. There will further be a short pep-talk by Norman H. Davis, Red Cross national chairman.

Ancient Transmitters.

On Friday at 9.30 NBC will hold another celebration, by itself this time, when station WEAF gets a brand new powerful transmitter. The participating artists will be only those who were famous in radio before innovations like nationwide networks. Some of the oldsters will be Graham McNamee, original WEAF announcer; Harold Sanford, veteran conductor; Harry Horlick, conductor of the old A. and P. Gypsies; also (but these were before my time) the silver masked tenor, Goldy and Dusty, May Singhi Breen and Peter de Rose, and the NBC Light Opera Company.

Midway in the program a formal appearance will be made by radio engineers and technicians, who up until now you have heard only when their voices got into a program by mistake. The first piece of music played over WEAF, a tune called "Georgia," will be given in its 1922 arrangement.

And then the program will be switched to the new transmitter. Niles Trammell, NBC president, will give a brief talk—he gets the first word. Music will be resumed with Frank Black and the NBC Concert Orchestra playing the National Anthem, and Mortimer Wilson's symphonic, "My Country."

The new transmitter should be patriotic, judging from its first environment.

Royal Message.

Through the Governor-General of Canada, the Earl of Athlone, His Majesty the King will send a special message to Canada on Remembrance Day. This message will be heard over a coast to coast network during the Remembrance Day broadcast presented by the Canadian Legion with the co-operation of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The special program will be heard on Monday, November 11, at 9.00 to 10.00 p.m., with significant music from the Mendelssohn Choir, conducted by Dr. Herbert A. Fricker.

Navy Gridders Down Flyers on Muddy Field

Sailors Tied With Flyers At Head of Rugby League

First Air Force Loss—Read Out for Rest of Season

Steaming down a rain-soaked, muddy, greasy field, the Navy gridders pom-pommed the Air Force, bagging two points and losing one. This victory places the Navy in first place, tied with Air Force.

Navy had the best of the first two quarters, continually pushing Air Force back. About half way through the second stanza, the sailors tacked into position, and Read managed to hoof one over the line that made the flyers take a forced landing behind their own lines. The airmen then looked to their laurels, and began to push the tars back. Half time saw the Air Force in possession of the ball at centre field, with the Navy on the long end of a one-zero score.

Key Injured. The third quarter opened up with a bang, with the red-sweatered airmen, Kexy and Johnson, running back Navy kicks for long gains. Read, the Navy kicker, was twisted over backward as he was tackled, while running around the end. He was rushed to a hospital, where X-ray examination revealed a torn ligament, and a chipped bone in his right ankle. This accident will put him out of the running for the rest of the season.

Navy made a breakaway, as Stronach, intercepting an Air Force pass, ran for 25 yards before he was downed. On the next play, Barclay made a beautiful plunge, which was good for 10 yards. From then on, hard luck dogged the sailors. Byington fumbled on the ten-yard line, the ball being recovered in the nick of time. Barclay got right through on the next attempt, but the play was called back due to an offside. A lovely drop-kick by Norris hit the bar, and bounced into play. Air Force recovered and were almost away, but a spectacular tackle by Landry saved the day.

KEY KICKS SINGLE.

Early in the last quarter, the lights were turned on, and the white ball brought out. This served as a signal for both teams to start heaving. An Air Force pass from McFarlane to Parre netted 40 yards. A second throw, this time to Wallace gained ten yards. The following kick went over the line, but Navy ran it out. The sailors attempted to kick clear, but Kexy, picking up the ball, returned the kick for a single with only eight minutes to go.

After this attack, the Air Force seemed to slacken off, while the Navy turned on more heat, if possible. The teams seersawed back and forth, making little headway. Finally, Simpson, for Navy, broke through the line for a 20 yard gain. Two forwards from Byington to Norris placed the seamen in scoring position. On the last play of the game, Norris hoofed one which went over the line, and then curvied sharply to the right, going offside. The final score, Navy 2, Air Force 1.

Key, Parre and MacFarlane starred for Air Force, while Navy stars were Byington, Landry, Norris and Stronach.

McGILL SQUASH TEAM WILL PLAY ATTWATER

Tomorrow night at 8 p.m. there will be a squash contest between McGill and the Atwater Club. Two singles and one doubles court will be reserved for the tournament.

The first six on the McGill ladder who will compete are Wall, Eppey, Peter Landry, Bill Ar-buckle, Jack Whitelaw, Ken Campbell, Gault Finley.

McGill Fighting Season Opened

All Interested Students Given Fine Opportunity to Take Part

The past week has been a very active one in Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing circles, as the new season was launched with successful opening meetings in the respective sports. The turnouts were encouraging for the first day and showed that there was a good deal of interest in these sports. However many who signed the lists did not show up, and are urged to do so for the next class.

Regular boxing classes are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6-7 p.m. and Saturdays from 5-6 p.m.; wrestling every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6-7 p.m. The next fencing meeting will be tomorrow.

Due to the suspension of Inter-collegiate competition this year, B.W. & F. has fallen in line with the other sports in widening its scope to include all interested students, who are seeking either the moral elevation of athletic competition or the chance to do their part toward the success of their company. The former is by far the most important, as the chief aim of the "new deal" in McGill sports is to increase the number of students who can benefit from them. It follows, then, that experience and ability are of very little importance, and eagerness the only requisite.

Boxing made the most auspicious beginning, as Coach Bert Light met his first class of thirty. He was pleased with the showing, but is anxious to have a much greater turnout. He started them off with one of his characteristic brisk calisthenics drills, and then showed them the fundamentals punches.

TULLY GIVES DEMONSTRATION.

The new instructor, George Tully, was introduced to fencing enthusiasts in a very attractive program last Tuesday night. He gave an exciting demonstration of his skill with the three weapons: foil, sabre and epee, with the able help of Jack McNiven, who introduced him. The highlight of the evening was a duel with dagger and epee after fashion of the good old days, without, however, the pretty damsel to be rescued by the swordsmen's efforts.

Every opportunity is offered for interested students to participate, as all equipment will be supplied by the Fencing Club, and expert instruction will be given, especially to beginners.

When the season is well underway, a small B.W. & F. meet is planned on an intercompany basis. This will probably take place before Christmas.

R.V.C. Sports

BADMINTON

Tonight will see another mixed doubles series played in the Gym. There has been a splendid turnout every Tuesday night and all the courts have been filled, but there are more people needed to play on Thursday nights. Everybody is invited to turn out whether an experienced player or not. If any of the co-eds intend to play regularly they can get a locker key from Mrs. Tyrrel.

BASKETBALL

The first practice of the season was held yesterday afternoon in the M.H.S. Gym. There was a fine turnout and great things are expected from the team. The next practice will be held next Wednesday from 5-6 p.m.

R.V.C. FENCING

Friday afternoon in the Lower Gym in R.V.C. the co-ed fencers will hold their first meeting of the season. All those who intend to turn out are asked to bring along a glove, and to be dressed in their gym outfits, with running shoes. A large turnout is expected.

SQUASH CLASSES

Squash classes are continuing from 5.00 to 6.00 p.m. and 8.00 to 9.00 p.m. on Mondays, and 8.00 to 9.00 on Wednesdays. Will the men who have signed up for instruction on the notice board in the locker room please keep their appointment, or if no longer interested, strike their name from the list so that others may take advantage of this opportunity.

INTRAMURAL

HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL BE STARTED SOON

Prospective puck chasers will be glad to hear that arrangements are now being made to secure the Forum for three one hour periods a week during the winter months. The times and days will be announced in the near future and all those interested will probably be asked to turn out next week.

As with other sports, hockey will be run on an intercompany basis and competition will continue for Intercompany Sports' top honours. The tentative scheme planned for the first part of the year will be one hour a week put aside for practice and the other two hours for games.

Players on last year's senior team will take over the honorary posts of Company coaches in the new set-up and will probably have an opportunity to play themselves. The games will take place sometime between noon and 2 o'clock on the days assigned to McGill.

OFFICIALS

Experienced Officials will be required for Hockey, Basketball and Volleyball, so if you are interested and capable get in touch with the Athletics office soon and leave your name indicating your experience.

FENCING

There will be a meeting of those interested in fencing Friday night in the B.W. & F. room. The time of the meeting will be announced later. George Tully is the new instructor.

BOXING

Boxing classes are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursdays from 6.00 to 7.00 p.m. and Saturdays from 4.00 to 5.00 p.m. These are always wide-open and students are urged to take advantage of them. As announced before Instructor Bert Light will be on hand and every last man who turns up is assured a good and interesting work-out.

SPORTS REPRESENTATIVES

NOW to get down to "cases" the following platoons have not as yet handed in their questionnaires to the Athletics Office:—

- "B" Company, Platoons 6 and 8.
- "C" Company, Platoons 11, 12, 13, 15.
- "D" Company, Platoons 16, 17, 18, 20.
- "E" Company, Platoons 22, 23, 24.
- "F" Company, Platoons 28, 30.

Sports Representatives are asked again to do their utmost to clear up this little matter immediately.

SWIMMING CLASSES

All details of the "Learn To Swim Campaign" have now been settled and the first class is ready to commence on Tuesday, Nov. 12th. Mark Veary, Swimming Coach at the K. of C. Pool has been appointed Instructor for the McGill Beginners Class and will be on deck to take over.

The first class is limited to 25 persons whose names appeared on the Locker Room Notice Board. If you signed up for this class then be sure to show up on Tuesday at 5.30 p.m. at the K. of C. Pool dressed (or rather undressed) for action.

There will be two classes per week, Tuesday and Friday from 5.30 p.m. to 6.45 p.m. All those who are planning on taking part are urged to be present right from the start and if at all possible to make it a point to attend regularly.

For those who missed out on the first list another is to be posted within a week or so. Again as soon as 25 names appear on the list a class will be started, namely Class No. 2.

This is the chance you have probably been waiting for so don't fail to take advantage of it. If you have already signed for Class No. 1 then be at the K. of C. Pool on Tuesday. If you have not signed up and wish to Learn to Swim then sign your name on the list for Class No. 2 which is to be posted on the Locker Room notice Board.

VOLLEY-BALL

On Wednesday next, Nov. 13th, the Inter-Company Volley-ball League will definitely get under way. Each Platoon is responsible for fielding one team. Schedules are being drawn up on the assumption that 35 teams will be taking part. This number is based on the fact that there are now 28 Platoons in the M.R.T.B., 2 Platoons in the MacDonald College and sufficient players among the Independents to warrant them fielding 5 Teams.

Volley-ball Games will be played on Wednesday and Thursday of each week from 5.00 p.m. to 6.00 p.m. and from 6.00 p.m. to 7.00 p.m. Points are to be awarded on a Point-participation basis whereby a team gets 5 points for playing a game and an additional 5 points if it wins it. Then at the end of the League points will also be awarded to the Champs to the runner-up and on a basis of team standings.

In the event of a Platoon failing to field a team or should it default a game then the Company to which it belongs will have the number of points deducted that it would have received if the game had been won. COMPANY OFFICERS AND PLATOON SPORTS REPRESENTATIVES should compile a list of every volley-ball player or would-be volley player in each of their Platoons at once. Since each Platoon is made up of approximately 60 men there should be no difficulty in lining up 6 men to form a volley-ball team to represent the Platoon in question. Unlimited substitution is to be allowed. The only requisite being that the men must play only for the Platoon to which they belong. The Schedule will be published sometime this week and all Volley-ball players, Platoon Sports Representatives and Platoon Officers are asked to clip these and keep them for reference.

As soon as teams are formed they should elect one of their number to act as the Manager who will be responsible for seeing that the men turn out for games and generally be responsible for the Team.

GYMNASTIC CLUB

All members of last year's Gymnastic Club are urged to be present at the Squad Leaders work-out this afternoon in the Gymnasium. The work-out will run from 5.00 p.m. to 6.00 p.m. and from 6.00 p.m. until 7.00 p.m. as usual. However, at 6.00 p.m. there will be a short break from the regular routine when the members of last year's Gymnastic Club will go into a huddle to elect a Manager and a Captain.

This "bye-election" has been necessitated by the fact that both Peter Savage or Dave Sproule, Manager and Captain respectively, have failed to re-register for the 1940-1941 School Term. Following the usual procedure only those who were eligible to vote last Spring will be eligible to participate in this election.

The following are particularly urged to be present and also any others who were members of the Club last year—Bill Weber, Joe Sabath, Al Pue-Gilchrist, Art Henderson, John Simpson, Guy Royer, Terry Leslie, Boyd Morrison, and James Warburton.

If you were a member of the Gymnastic Club in any year previous to last year and intend to become active again this year you too are entitled to participate in the elections. If you have missed the practices to date then be sure to turn up dressed for action tonight and be advised that work-outs from now on will fall on the following days:—Monday at 5.00 p.m., Thursday at 8.00 p.m. and Saturday at 4.00 p.m.

Harriers Race In Dunlop Meet

Inter-Company Competition Keen—Entries Still Open

The Annual Dunlop Road Race is to take place on Saturday, November 9th. At 3 p.m. the runners will leave the North Branch of the Y.M.C.A. for their five-mile grind through the streets of Outremont. McGill has won the trophy six times in the last eight years and defends her title once again with a strong team.

Glen Cowan, last year's winner, competes again this year, as does Joe Berman, who has run twice before in this contest. Two other veterans, Lloyd Cooke and Paul Peter, are prevented from entering owing to pressure of studies. However, the newer material shows a great deal of promise, notably Ian Ross and L. Hyde, who are both experienced runners and are expected to give a good account of themselves. On these four McGill bases her hopes for retaining her laurels.

PRACTICES WELL ATTENDED

The practices have been held at 5 p.m. every afternoon and have been very well attended. Training runs included a three-and-a-half-mile jog over the mountain. These workouts brought to light some excellent talent among the new men. In particular Dace Gibb, Bill Long, and Bonar Lindsay looked good and should do well in the race. This event is the only one of the season for McGill's Harriers and so interest has been high, practices have been strenuous and large numbers of enthusiasts have turned out. With the period of training at an end, the Harriers are in good shape and should have little difficulty with the five-mile course.

Since McGill's sports are organized on an Inter-Company basis this year, the Road Race has also been organized on that plan. Every entrant gains his Company two points, regardless of where he finishes, when he finishes or even if he finishes. The first four men to finish from each Company compose its team and the placing is done from them. The first team is to get 30 points, the next 25 and so on. As in the Tennis Tournament the number of entries from each Company will go a long way to deciding the final result. So that anyone who feels himself capable of completing the course, or even of getting some way in it, should not let doubt of his powers prevent him from entering.

THREE COMPANIES EVEN

Inter-Company competition should be keen for 'B' only lead 'C' by a small margin, and 'A' is not very far behind, due to their success in the Tennis Competition. 'B' puts its trust in Joe Berman, 'C' in Glen Cowan and 'A' in Ian Ross. All three should do well and the final result will probably be close. 'E' Company will be granted leave from its Saturday afternoon drill in order to compete.

Competition is always strong in this race and McGill generally has to meet many well-known Montreal runners. This year the Army is entering a team but as they have little time to train their opposition is not likely to be formidable. Combined with the fact that past entries will be accepted, this should put heart into waverers. It is stressed that no one need tear their heart out in an effort to keep up with the pace-makers, as the mere fact of their having entered has been of service to their Company in that they get 2 points.

DANCE CLUB

All co-eds who wish to join the modern Dance Club are asked to sign the list posted in R.V.C. Freshettes with some dancing experience are especially welcome.

COED FENCERS START SEASON

Maitre Leuchter Continues to Instruct Girls

Addresses Club Tomorrow Afternoon on Noble Art

Tomorrow afternoon in the R.V.C. lower Gymnasium the initial meeting of the Coed Fencing Club will get under way at 4.00 p.m. The enthusiasm that has already been shown is really gratifying considering that it is not a compulsory class. Over forty-five women students have already volunteered, and more may be accommodated if they desire to learn the art of lunging and parrying.

Every one of last year's members will no doubt be overjoyed to learn of the return of Maitre Leuchter, who proved such an inspiring instructor during last year's session. Gibson Beatty and Marguerite Petties two of the expert veterans of the Club will be on hand once more to partake of the excellent instruction that will be a large part of the program.

URGED TO BE PUNCTUAL.

A special request to be on time for the first lesson was voiced by Margo Van Reet, the Fencing Manager and Champion of the Club. Miss Van Reet will introduce Maitre Leuchter to the coeds. Maitre Leuchter will then address the girls on the art of Fencing.

There are many innovations in the ruling of the Club this year. Primarily the coeds will not have to spend $2.50 to buy their own fells, for they are being supplied by the Club. Secondly the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium will be available during two hours of the week. Unfortunately this will not be sufficient time to give each girl at least one lesson a week, but it is hoped that some arrangement may be made whereby four hours may be obtained, in order to rectify this lack of time.

Coeds who intend to gather tomorrow for the opening meeting are advised that they may wear either their shorts or a short skirt in order that their knee action when lunging may be carefully observed and corrected if necessary. All the equipment that will be required will be a glove, preferably not too tight.

EXHAUSTING SPORT.

After the first meeting last year many of the coeds had great difficulty in ascending the stairs of any building of the campus, in fact any building at all, but it is hoped that this year their military training will already have got them into condition. If not they are assured that after the third lesson they will be in perfect trim.

A special invitation is extended to those coeds who intend doing active rushing during "Sadie Hawkins week" this January. For as Sadie says "Efen She catch him he be her'n," but there won't even be any need to chase by that time for who could resist the point of a foil.

WESTERN STILL WINNING

The University of Western Ontario Mustangs may be going to lose their Stadium but it doesn't seem to have affected their football ability much. We noticed recently that the Western team had administered a severe drubbing to the R.M.C. Cadets and now it seems that the Mustangs have taken on the University of Detroit "B" squad with much the same result. The game was played, half under American rules, the rest under Canadian ones and we hear that Messrs. Krol and company had the Detroit outfit wondering whether they were playing basketball or football.

One last outburst—on the subject of "knee socks". The plague has spread to campers or campuses if you prefer it) across Canada, with almost universal disapproval from the male element. Some seem hopeful that their disapproval, loudly expressed, will have some favorable result. From our own experience, we'd say to these hopefuls that all they'll get is a few poems, some amusing but all withering in their scorn for a mere male who has the nerve to think that women dress to please him, rather than themselves.

uate of McGill University and Radcliffe College. She is at the same time secretary of the Federation of Canadian University women. The subject of her address was "A Fabulous History," and during her talk she read parts from the book of the same name.

Tea was served, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mary Gowans. The treasurer, Mrs. Buchanan, gave her report. The president, Mrs. Wilson, welcomed the graduating class of '41 and the future members of the club. She praised the late Dr. Maude Abbott, and said that some of the society's funds would probably be given to the fund being raised for a picture of the late Dr. Abbott, and a sum toward the Abbott Scholarship. At the same time, a letter from Madame Casgrain, president of the league for Women's Rights was read, asking if any of the members of the Alumnae Society would wish to join the federation.

contributing to the entertainment, and Frances Cox, Chairman of last year's Senior Dinner, will act as Mistress of Ceremonies.

Suggestions were made for a campus-wide campaign for selling war-savings stamps. The "smile-a-dime" system now in effect at U.B.C. was named as a successful method. Another suggestion, "practical for co-eds shopping in Montreal," remarked it's sponsor, was that of using change-pennies to buy stamps which would be sold at the R.V.C. porter's office. Clubs, such as the Debating Society and La Societe Francaise this year will give prizes instead of the usual type of stamps for club contests.

The Treasurer of the Women's Union, Mrs. Phyllis Duchastel, announced that her office hours will be from 12 noon to 2 p.m. on Tuesdays and from 9 to 12 on Friday mornings. Her home telephone number is AT. 8737.

PROGRAM PLANNED BY CAMERA CLUB

Executive Gives Assignments Until Next Meeting November 20

Yesterday at 7:30 p.m. the Camera Club held its first business meeting in the Music Room of the Union. Among the matters decided upon was the time for future regular meetings of the club, the program for the next year, fees, and an assignment that was given to the members until the next meeting. The time for future meetings was set for Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m., and the next meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday, November 20. The program for the meeting is to consist of a demonstration of Night Club Photography by R. M. Wood, and some Kodachrome slides by J. B. Collins, which will be projected.

Ken Smith gave a report on the dark room problem, in which he said that the room in the Biological Building could be occupied by the Camera Club by the middle or end of December. Until that time, George Diamond offered the use of his dark room to members of the club once a week. The people interested should get in touch with him at college. The dark room is situated at 369 St. Catherine West, suite 5. During the course of the meeting George Diamond also invited the members of the club to a meeting of the N.D.G. Camera Club and the Photographic Guild at which a demonstration of the processes involved in making gum prints will be given. The meeting will take place November 12.

Until the time of the next meeting an assignment was given out to the members in connection with the campus life competition. At the next meeting all the members are requested to bring in pictures of one or more professors, if possible, enlarged 8 x 10 on glossy paper. The pictures will be turned over to Elspeth Russell, Photographic Editor of the annual and Secretary of the Camera Club.

At the meeting the fees for the club were set at $1.00 to be paid monthly. They will be employed in the acquisition of dark room equipment, including an enlarger, and also for small prizes to be given out to members for a future competition to be held after Christmas. This competition will be reserved to snow and ski pictures and all members and non-members will be permitted to enter pictures. However, non-members of the club will pay an entry fee for each picture.

The pictures of the members which had not been accepted for the Exhibition at the Art Galleries were returned at the meeting and a selection of five more sent to the Exhibition.

The executive hopes that a large number will come to the meeting on the 20th of November as the demonstration and slides should be interesting and also hopes that many pictures of Campus Dignitaries will be turned in. In the future the club is planning to continue to meet on Wednesday nights at two week intervals.

PLUMBER UND'GRADS PRESENT STATEMENT

The fall meeting of the Engineering Undergraduates Society will be held Saturday, November 9, at 12 o'clock in room 33 of the Engineering Building. The chief topic of discussion will probably not include the yearly budget which is approximately as follows:

$100.00 Banquet Expenses	25.00 Gifts to Staff
50.00 Telephone	40.00 Printing
125.00 Executive Trips and Miscellaneous Expenses	25.00 Magazine Subscriptions
	20.00 Photographs
	25.00 Society Grants
	50.00 Miscellaneous
	450.00

"From the above listing it would appear that more than twenty-five per cent. of the budget is to be spent entirely for the executive body. Let's get this thing settled once and for all on Saturday the 9th," said David Haviland, treasurer of the society.

FROTH AND VITAMIN "A."

Every Freshman takes his Vitamin A test in Room 121, Arts Building. He looks into a little black box, a switch is turned and his eyes are blinded with the glare of white light. The operator turns off the switch and the Freshman's eyes go through convulsions adjusting themselves to the new intensity. The time taken to make this adjustment indicates whether the Freshman is deficient in Vitamin A.

Vitamin A is a very important substance. Every Freshman should have some. In fact, everyone should have some. Dr. L. B. Pett, the brains behind this Vitamin A business, told me that deficiency may cause such unpleasant things as low resistance, dry skin, common colds, night blindness, eye-strain, eczema, bad teeth, gingivitis or pyorrhea. We didn't know what gingivitis was, so we asked. It is a sore mouth.

Curiously, Vitamin A deficiency may cause automobile accidents. One Freshman's eyes took 40 seconds to recover from the glare of the tester. Dr. Pett calculates that had he been driving a car some fine night, and had he been blinded by the headlights of another automobile, the poor Freshman would have driven over four hundred yards without being able to see where he was going. A lot can happen in four hundred yards.

We questioned him about this year's new class.

"Well, when we opened shop the first morning the first customer to walk in was an Airedale dog. We didn't get it confused with a Freshman, however. Seriously, though, I find this season's Freshman class is the worst yet, regarding Vitamin A deficiency. Over 25 per cent. of them are deficient, and 23 per cent. are seriously deficient. The worst was that chap who took 40 seconds to adjust his vision. I tested the summer school earlier in the season. Thirty per cent. lacked Vitamin A, an average percentage. Taking into account that deficiency increases with the coming of autumn, this year's Freshman class still has the greatest lack of Vitamin A of any group that I have tested."

Freshmen are going to have damp handkerchiefs from dripping noses this winter. If they take care of themselves, eat good food, and take cod liver oil they may stand a chance of avoiding colds.

Dr. Pett is gaining no little fame by his Vitamin A testing gadget. The United States Government is using one in the Philippine Islands to test sailors for night blindness. The University of Maine, like the University of Alberta, has tested all its Freshman class. Another machine is in use at Toronto, and Dr. Pett has offered the Department of National Defence his invention if it will be of service.

"And this is all your own invention?"

"Yes," breathed Dr. Pett. Dr. Pett has three efficient assistants, Mr. LePage, Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Waagen. One of them said: "Who knows, some day Mickey Rooney may act his boyhood."

—THE GATEWAY.

WHAT'S THE USE?

If a man runs after money, he's money-mad; if he keeps it, he's a capitalist; if he spends it, he's a playboy; if he doesn't get it, he's a ne'er-do-well; if he doesn't try to get it, he lacks ambition; if he gets it without working for it, he's a parasite; and if he accumulates it after a lifetime of hard work, people call him a fool who never got anything out of life.—The Gateway.

"Mary, where have you been till three a.m.?"

"Walking, mother."

"For goodness sake!"

"Yes, mother."

Amplifier Required.

Editor-in-chief,
McGill Daily,
To whom this man concerns:
Moyse Hall is a big auditorium. It seats by the Dean's own admission, close to 450 students. Those unfortunate enough to occupy the last dozen or so rows are at no considerable distance from the platform. And the lecturer who happens to be in action, being human, finds it a bit tiring to continue at a steady crescendo or fortissimo an hour straight. All of which, coupled with the intermittent coughs and sneezes of some 300 souls in front, tend to make the job of catching the proceedings quite difficult for the poor chap at the rear—who very often gives it up as a bad job and works a cross-word puzzle. In view of which I would urge that an amplifier or its equivalent be established in the Hall as soon as possible.

YEHUDI.
(The little man who IS there.)

Poor, Poor Americans

Editor-in-Chief,
McGill Daily.
Dear Sir:
In yesterday's 'Daily' there was printed an abstract of an address by Professor Bonn before the People's Forum.

It is hard to see how in these times a man of letters and in a responsible capacity could bow to street-corner adjectives and passion in describing my countrymen to the South as poor partners in the game of War number One because they could not stand the treachery of the Post-War Clemenceau of Tiger and Lying fame, and assumed that victorious France could be better able to defend herself than a prostrate Germany. Power politics around the table of Versailles is past. And though we are now to celebrate soon the anniversary of the Armistice, we are engaged once again against the same enemy.

Regarding his assumption that France was defeated in war because she had no great Continental powers for allies against the Teutonic horde of myriads, it is to be pointed out that for years the Italian and Channel countries were the pawns of French politics. That they were alienated is due to a peculiar fungus in politics known now as "Non-Intervention" in Spain, and the Sanctions fiasco in the Ethiopian War. Perhaps the Professor remembers, at least the Americans do, and the stench has come to be remembered well.

Perhaps when the Professor
